

Announcement: Free membership in NABA for Native American veterans

To show support for our troops, NABA's Board of Directors have decided to extend a one-year FREE membership to NABA to any new business owners who are returning Native American veterans and/or any Native American veterans of any military activity undertaken under the current Administration. To qualify for this FREE membership, applicants must be able to show the following:

- Native American ancestry (in any federal- or state-recognized tribe)
- Veteran status under the current Administration
- Documentation indicating the Native American veteran is the owner of the business

This offer is open to new and existing businesses. Membership in NABA gives you a wide range of benefits, including a business and resource referral network; listing on our website; and facilitation and development of business relationships with corporations that need to meet their supplier diversity goals.

More information on what NABA can do for you can be found on our website: www.native-american-bus.org. Don't miss this chance to become a member of NABA for FREE and let us promote your business to Corporate America.

This offer will expire on December 21, 2008. Your membership will be valid for one calendar year after we receive your membership enrollment form. After the first year, you will be billed at the regular member rate. Please go to www.native-american-bus.org for details.
